Put on mask, holding your breath until mask is in position. Turn up collar. Put on gloves or keep hands in pockets. Take cover in nearest building quickly. Put up umbrella, if you have one.

IF YOU GET GASSED

by Vapour Gases

1. Keep your mask on even if you feel discomfort.

by Liquid or Blister Gas

1. Dab, but don't rub the splash with your handkerchief. Then destroy the handkerchief.
2. Rub No. 2 Ointment well into place (buy a 6d. jar now from any chemist). In an emergency, chemists will supply Bleach Cream free.

IN CASE OF INJURY

Wounded and gas contaminated casualties who can walk should go direct to the nearest First Aid Post. If you suspect that your clothing has been contaminated by liquid gas, remove the affected garment immediately and place it outside the house, then wash yourself thoroughly. Stretcher cases will be taken to hospitals.

GAS MASKS

TAKE CARE OF YOUR GAS MASK. Learn how to put it on and take it off and how to store it properly. Keep it ready for immediate use. If you have no gas mask or if your mask does not fit or seems out of repair, speak to your Warden about it at once.

LIGHTING RESTRICTIONS

All windows, doors, skylights or openings which would show a light, must be screened so that no light can be seen from outside. Do not use a light in a room unless the blind or curtain is drawn, and remember that a light at the back of the house is just as visible from the air as one at the front.

AIR RAID WARNING SIGNALS

• WARNING SIGNAL. Whistling or intermittent sound on siren. Whistles blown by police and wardens. • GAS WARNING. Rattles sounded. • RAIDING PASSED. Continuous sound on siren. • ALL CLEAR. Handbells ring.

When you hear the WARNING Signal TAKE COVER AT ONCE and stay there until you hear the continuous sound on the siren or the ringing of a handbell. Have your Gas Mask with you. If RATTLES have been used warning you of gas, do not come out until you hear HANDBELLS.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS

Be ready to deal with an incendiary bomb. Clear all lumber from your attic NOW, and see that you have easy access to the attic or roof space. Provide two buckets filled with water and, if possible, a stirrup hand pump with two-purpose nozzle, either precluding spray for dealing with the bomb itself, or precluding a jet for tackling the resulting fire.

Have a reserve supply of water in buckets or tubs. Leave used water in bath.

If you have no stirrup hand pump, have two buckets of sand or dry earth near the top of the house, and a shovel with a long handle for putting sand on the bomb. After covering the bomb with sand, place it in a bucket which has a few inches of sand in the bottom, and remove it from the house. Scrape up every particle of burning metal. The resulting fire will then have to be extinguished. Buckets of water or a folded blanket kept wet from a bucket of water might be used.

On no account throw water on the bomb or an explosion may result.

If you cannot put out the fire send for help to

★ HANG THIS CARD IN A PERMANENT AND PROMINENT POSITION

Digest of conversation that took place over the 'phone when Captain Denaro rang me up on Sunday the 22nd of September 1940 at 9.45 a.m.

Hullo. Is that Mr Cleave. Yes, who is that speaking? I am Captain Denaro of the Royal Engineers. Oh yes.

About your letter. He said he would not remove the mines. I replied, surely they could be removed to a safer position? He said, he would have the position surveyed. I told him the matter was most urgent, and had counted 13 strewn over the foreshore immediately opposite my house, laying loose and washed about by the tide, and further said, when his men were laying the mines, I pointed out the position in which they were being set would prove a menace, as the battering they would receive from a high tide, and a strong wind, coupled with the further risk of any flotsam and jetsam striking them, would explode them. He said I did not understand the position, and he intended to guard the whole coast. I replied I quite agreed and understood about taking every precaution against an enemy, but he surely did not seriously anticipate, out of the hundreds of miles surrounding the British Isles, the enemy would pick on my 200 feet of foreshore for his invasion plan, and even if he did, the mines would be no deterrent, as they would have already exploded and have done their damage, not to Jerry, but to me. He laughed, and said, they may land anywhere. I replied, yes, but surely the end you are endeavouring to attain, could be so attained without having my property periodically damaged. He asked if I was nervous. I said no, and had yet to learn that objecting to one's house and home being blown up was a symptom of nervousness, but was apprehensive of having my home blown to blazes. I told him, on two separate occasions mines had exploded, and it was not altogether enjoyable expecting at every high tide for more to go off, and I did most strongly object to being blown up by my own people. He suggested I should let the matter drop, and say no more about it, to which I replied, I most certainly did not intend to let the matter drop. He said my letter had threatened him, and although he did not like turning people out of their homes, if I persisted, he would ask for a compulsory evacuation. I replied we had been asked to stick it, and we were going to stick it, and the leaving of the premises would in no way prevent more damage as the matter was at present. I again urged that the mines be removed from the immediate vicinity, and feeling this, could they not be properly secured to prevent accidental explosion, but because I lodged a legitimate complaint, to threaten me with expulsion, was only burking the question, and to adopt such an attitude was quite untenable. He, again said he would have the position surveyed.

A Wartime Diary

20.6.40

We got our first aid raid warning at 3.30 a.m., Thursday morning, 20th June 1940. I tumbled out of bed, pulled on my stockings and sat on the edge of the bed, wondering what to do next. I sat there for about half an hour, then I heard the "all clear" so I got back into bed. The nearest place to us which was bombed was Accrington. The total casualties in this raid were sixteen killed and seventeen injured. One hundred Nazi bombers took part in it; they lost at least seven.

Our next warning was about 1.15 a.m., Tuesday morning, 25th June 1940. These sirens make a weird din. We got out of bed, dressed, and went downstairs. We could hear the people outside running to the shelters, but we stayed in our own home. We got the "all clear" in just over an hour. Five people were killed and fourteen injured in one town.

The Germans are over England every night but we only get the warning when they are coming in our direction. A lot of our men have joined the Parashots, a body of men on the look out for Germans who may land by parachute. All our Parashots are armed. We have taken all our signposts down and blotted out all names of places. We are expecting an invasion any day. We have put barriers across the main roads, also concrete pill boxes on block houses with soldiers guarding them.

After we had the first air raid warning, I had become afraid of the nights coming. The German bombers are coming over night and day now, but so far we have been lucky, as no bombs have been dropped in our district. Considering the amount of planes coming over, the damage has been very slight up to now.

The Germans made a big blunder this week when they torpedoed the Andora Star, which happened to be full of Germans and Italians, when they drowned nearly one thousand of their own people. I suppose they thought the ship was full of children being evacuated.

Now we have received a bit of good news. Our Navy has just captured some of the French Fleet.

We are arresting aliens, fascists, and Fifth Columnists every day, but I think we have a lot of traitors amongst our people, who might prove dangerous to ourselves if we are invaded. We are quite ready for the Germans, and I don't think they will find it so easy to enter our country. We have just been told to get in a fortnight's supply of foodstuffs in case of the roads being blocked any time.

Jan.7th 1943

Have just returned from a wonderful leave — given quite unexpectedly. We left Cairo on Dec. 22nd, arriving at Jerusalem on Dec 23. with a Padre friend who escorted us, as there was no room elsewhere we stayed at the King David Hotel, which is the best place in Jerusalem, the food was not up to standard so we fed at the Y.M.C.A. restaurant which is immediately opposite. Margaret & I shared a beautiful double room with bathroom attached, we rather revelled in the luxury of it all I am afraid for two nights, then we moved to a pension after the Xmas rush was over on Boxing Day.

We visited the 16th G. H. which is in the Kaisers Palace on Mount Olivet — saw Mary Jack and all other friends, arranged to meet them at night to go to Bethlehem.

It was a wonderful experience to be in Bethlehem on Xmas eve, we were present at the Broadcast service. It was also very reminiscent of other — happier Xmas'es — my thoughts were enfolding you all & prayers were prayed for you all, by my friends also.

On Xmas day — we had to celebrate by having our Xmas breakfast at the Hotel — after which we attended the Church of Scotland morning service, there being no Methodist service — the first Xmas service since I left home — I mean in a Church — we walked over the hills and had our Xmas dinner at the Y.M. we spent the rest of the day with Mary Jack at the hospital.

On Boxing day we went to the American Colony, where we were most comfortable — we walked over the hills & went to Nahaiyel a seaside place & up to Metulla, on the Syrian Border. We went to Eir Karin — the village where John the Baptist was born, & climbed the hill, at the top of which, is a house and church owned by Miss Carey — she has a picture of the entire Carey family taken whilst the Bishop was visiting G'sey & what was more had a G'sey grandfather clock — we talked & talked & decided that we would fly home together with Mary Dorey, who is also in Palestine.

We loved the wild flowers - scarlet anemones — wild iris nesting in their leaves on the ground — picked oranges & lemons from the trees — it was a wonderful time — if somewhat saddened by not being able to share it with you both.
